IMPARTIAL, NOT NEUTRAL.

SHANGHAI SATURDAY, APRIL 23 1864.

WE have been requested to mention that, in consequence of 8.45 having been found inconveniently early, divine service or board the Bethel will be held at 11.45 A.M. to-morrow, and until further notice.

NEXT to Calcutta, Shanghai is now the greatest commercial city in the East, and its Land Renters have no trifling matters to dispose of when called on to regulate the income and expenditure for the ensuing year. The meeting held at H. B. M. Consulate on the 16th ult., was asked to acquiesce in the imposition of new taxes which would raise the revenue from Tls. 216,000, during 1863-64, to Tls. 511,000, during the current year, and in an expenditure of Tls. 457,000 instead of Tls. 239,000. A large proportion of this increase was proposed to be allotted to doubling the police force—a measure which the frequency of outrages both by Europeans and Cantonese, has proved to be imperatively required. The number of nineteen men by day and thirty two by night, who only are available for patrol duty, under the present arrangement, is manifestly utterly inadequate to the requirements of the settlement; and the proposal to double the force would have met with the entire approval of the Land Renters, had they not been restrained by apprehension that the large increase proposed in taxation would have the effect of driving the Chinese from the settlement. A resolution offered to the meeting by Mr. Hanbury, giving expression to this apprehension, was almost unanimously agreed to; and the whole financial scheme of the Municipal Council was upset in consequence. The confusion was made worse by Sir Harry Parkes' assurance that the new taxes contemplated could not be imposed without the sanction of the Chinese authorities; and that the Taotai had already protested against two—those on brothels and opium shops—as illegal. It thus became necessary to dismiss every separate item of the budget, and as it was impossible to decide whether or not certain proposed expenses should be incurred, until it was known whether permission would be accorded to the collecting of the new taxes, an adjournment was decided on, to enable the Chinese authorities to be consulted. The only items disposed of were, a grant of Tls. 40,000, rather less than half the proposed sum, for the increase to the police force, and a loan of Tls. 90,000, the responsibility for which, it was agreed, should be undertaken by the several mercantile firms in the settlement. Probably the most important resolution offered to the meeting was that which again raised the vexed question as to the advisability of paying the tax on the rentals of Chinese houses, which it was agreed, last June, should be handed over to the Taotai. The English and American Consuls at first agreed to levy 20 per cent from this source, half of which was to be paid to the local government; but Mr. Manboussin refused to agree to more than 16 per cent, and in order to place the three settlements on an equality, the tax was lowered to this rate in the English and American concessions also. But notwithstanding this agreement, the French authorities appear to have systematically opposed the levy of the tax, and to have arrested the Taotai's emissaries whenever found attempting to raise it. There can be no doubt that, as Mr. Hanbury argued, the non-levy of this tax in the French settlement does place the other two settlements at a disadvantage; for, caeteris paribus, the Chinese would naturally prefer residing where they are most lightly taxed. The most powerful argument brought against ceasing to levy the tax in the English concession was that, by abandoning the agreement in which the Taotai promised to abstain from levying further taxes, we opened the door to unlimited squeezes. By upholding the agreement, it is possible to maintain a certain check, as His Excellency has sufficient grace to be ashamed of his arrangements on it, and when his satellites are caught, repudiates them. But if it be flung up and he be thus released from his promises, we shall be unable to object to any taxes he may choose to impose, as the principle is indisputable that the Chinese have a right to tax their own subjects on their own territory, within which denomination the foreign settlements, as yet, come. This argument, however, does not apply to the French concession, where the authorities not only overlook the broad principle, but ignore the agreement they have entered into. The British Consul would not allow the Taotai's satellites to be arrested when engaged in the prosecution of a recognised theoretical right; but the French authorities persistently imprison every Chinaman caught levying a tax, of whatever description, within the limits of their settlement, unless it be recognised by the Municipal Council. Thus, because we persist in maintaining faith with the Chinese, although they never maintain faith with us, we must submit to be placed at a disadvantage with our neighbours who deal more summarily. The argument that, by repudiating the agreement, the door is opened to unrestricted squeezing, does not apply to them, since, if they hesitate not to arrest the Taotai's emissaries when engaged in the collection of a tax which they have consented to pay, they certainly would not hesitate to do so, if they found them levying one to which they had not agreed. We, on the other hand, either have to pay the tax we have agreed to, though our neighbours do not pay it, or to refuse to pay and allow the Taotai to collect it, and as many more as he pleases, unchecked; the alternative is disagreeable, but it appears unavoidable. We are glad to learn that the intention of asking the Taotai's sanction to the new taxes proposed by the Council, has been abandoned, and that the question has been referred to Pekin; for he would, of course, deny us the privilege of taxing at discretion which he exercises himself. After Mr. Dent's assurance that the native bankers do not object to the tax which it is proposed to levy from them, we hesitate to condemn it; but, from whatever cause it may arise, there is undeniably a feeling of uneasiness prevailing among them which is tending to confirm an inclination to emigrate to the suburbs. It may be that this arises from a sense of insecurity, on account of the several robberies from which they have lately been sufferers, or it may be that they object to find themselves heavily taxed by the Municipal Council, and yet exposed to the Taotai's squeezes. We do not pretend to decide.

Summary of the Week.

IN another part of the paper, will be found the official minutes of the proceedings of the Land Renters Meeting which was sitting at the time of our last publication. A small portion, only, of the business before the meeting was disposed of, and another will be called, so soon as the Chinese authorities have been consulted, in reference to the proposed new taxes. We alluded in our last issue to a serious outrage which had been committed at a small village in the neighborhood of Shanghai; and for the information of our readers out of Shanghai, who may not have seen the details given in our daily paper, we subjoin a sketch of the particulars which have reached us. The burglary was committed, on the 10th inst., at a village called In-jau-kong, about four miles below Hong-que, and a mile inland from Wong-poo. The victim was Chewke-fong, one of the wealthiest Chinese gentlemen in the neighbourhood. The family were awakened, early in the morning, by a loud hammering and some pistol shots; and on looking out saw about 60 or 70 Cantonese, armed with swords, and led by two Europeans. The burglars soon succeeded in effecting an entrance, and dispersed through the house in search of plunder. They had succeeded in collecting between three and four thousand taels, when the inmates, recovering from the panic which had at first seized them, roused the villagers, who fell on the thieves, and a desperate fight ensued in the different rooms. Eventually, they succeeded in getting clear off with their booty; but left three of their number dead, and one mortally wounded, besides a fifth prisoner. The traces of blood showed that others also, who had got away, were severely wounded, and four fingers, which were found on the ground, are believed to have belonged to one of the Europeans. It appears that a pocket book, belonging to one of the burglars, was found after the affray; but that, although his name was thus disclosed, the police have not yet been able to secure him. It is greatly to be regretted that the natives in this district do not always defend themselves with the courage they appear to have shown on this occasion. There is no question that if they always showed equal spirit, such outrages would be much less frequent.

AN excellent theatre has been got up by the Portuguese community, the opening performance at which was given on the 18th instant. The arrangements, the costumes and acting were all good; and amply repaid a visit, even by those who may not understand the Portuguese language.

WE regret to learn that the Revd. Mr. Smith, who had accepted the office of chaplain at Shanghai, has been obliged to resign it on account of ill-health, so that we are again without immediate prospect of a clergyman.

THE British barque Lowchow has become a total wreck, near the Light-ship at the entrance to the Yang-tze. She went on shore, while attempting to enter the river after dark. The Captain has been severely censured and deprived of his certificate for six months for his imprudence.

A correspondent writing from before Chang-chow, against which Gordon is about to commence operations, mentions that nearly 9,000 rebels were taken prisoners in the action at Wai-soo, which we recorded in our last issue. Of these, 6,000 were killed or drowned by the Imperialists, a fate they had well merited by the revolting cruelties towards the inhabitants of which they had been guilty. Gordon has ordered up the whole of his force from Le-yang to assist in the siege. The state of the country around Chang-chow is described as miserable in the extreme. The few inhabitants who remain are starving, without other means of sustenance than human flesh.

OUR Soochow correspondent informs us that the Imperialist General Chung, who was associated with Gordon at the seige of Soochow, has died from a wound in the forehead which he received before Kin-shing. The Futai has taken the field in person, to besiege the small city of Yang-sah. The arsenal first established by Macartney at Soochkong; but removed to Soochow after the fall of that city, is now in capital working order, turning out from 1,000 to 2,000 shell a week, besides fuzes and detonating tubes; several mortars have also been manufactured, and it is anticipated that caps and muskets will soon be added to the list.

FROM Hang-chow we learn that, while a portion of the Franco-Chinese contingent remains to garrison that city, the remainder has marched, accompanied by a large force of Imperialists, to besiege Hao-chow. This city is the last of any importance which the rebels possess in the Che-kiang province.

OUR Hankow correspondents have been too busily engaged with the races at that port to send us any other news. A letter giving a short account of them will be found in another column.

THE accounts from Tientsin are unfavorable. Trade is said to be very dull, and what little there is, to be greatly in the hands of Chinese. Restrictions have been placed by Sir F. Bruce on the visits of English subjects to the capital, without sanction from him.

THE news from Yokohama are favorable to the continuance of friendly relations with the natives. The government appears to have decided on abandoning its hostile attitude; indeed the Mikado denies that he authorized the steps which had been taken in his name to annoy foreigners. The prince of Satsuma has entered largely into silk speculation, much to the disgust it is said of his class, who consider trade as degrading in the extreme. The government has determined to reduce to order the prince of Chosew, who has almost completely stopped the trade through the Inland sea, by destroying all vessels which have on board produce destined for the foreign market.

Underwood, Thos. Vincent; and others not renters. Total 112 votes.

The proceedings were opened by Sir Harry Parkes, who, having taken the chair, remarked that the meeting had assembled in conformity with Article X of the Land Regulations, to receive the Report of the Municipal Council, and proceed to the election of councillors for the ensuing year. As the Report had been laid on the table and brought to the notice of all present, it was unnecessary to allude to it in the language of panegyric, whilst it was also superfluous to call attention to the labour and energy of the Municipal Council, to which the Report itself bore so full a testimony. He would allude, however, to one novel feature in the Report, viz: the production of a budget. This document showed that it was proposed to increase the expenditure from Tls. 289,000, in one year, to Tls. 457,000 for the coming period; and to raise a revenue of Tls. 511,000 in place of Tls. 216,000 in the past twelve months, thus doubling the expenditure and more than doubling the income. He would congratulate the community on the flourishing circumstances of the settlement which had appeared sufficient to warrant such an increase; but he must point out that some of the measures proposed, even if passed by that meeting, would require to receive the assent and sanction of the constituted authorities, before becoming law. It was necessary also that information should be given to the meeting upon the subject of jurisdiction over Chinese and non-recognized foreigners, which, since his arrival, had occupied a large portion of his attention, in conjunction with his colleague the U. S. Consul General. An arrangement had so far been concluded, on this point, that the approval of the Chinese authorities had been signified to a plan which had been drawn up, and which had further been approved of at two meetings of the Consular body, as well as by the Municipal Councils of both this and the French settlement. It was proposed to establish a Chinese Court in the settlement, which would take cognizance of offences committed by the above mentioned classes, and it was hoped that this Court would not only prove effective in connection with Chinese criminals, but also in the case of disorderly foreigners whom hitherto it has been found impossible to reach, owing to the absence of constituted authorities. As, however, it may appear somewhat repugnant to our ideas of justice that a Chinese official be invested with unchecked powers over any foreigners, it had been arranged that whenever it should become necessary to exercise jurisdiction over such persons, the Chinese officer should be assisted by two foreign assessors, who, without being invested with judicial powers, would exercise all the well known functions attributed to assessors generally; whilst in all cases whatsoever a foreign official should be admitted to the Court, to take notes of the proceedings; and he was able to state that the Municipal Council were prepared to agree to depute such an officer for this purpose. In grave cases where foreigners were concerned, appeal would be made to the Taotai himself, who would thereupon be assisted by assessors, probably of Consular rank, in a similar manner. By means of the proposed Court, it was hoped, prompt and certain punishment might be ensured for the crimes and disorders committed in the foreign settlement.

IT HAS been remarked that the Land Regulations now in force were deficient in certain particulars, and as the modifications proposed affect nearly the whole code, he thought that the community should decide upon the steps to be taken for promoting the necessary changes. The high-st authorities are ready to sanction any code of Land Regulations that may be drawn up; and as a committee has already been appointed for this purpose, at a previous meeting, by the members of which, he believed, great attention had been given to the matter, though he regretted to find no reference to the subject in the present report, he would suggest that it be taken up without delay. The difficulties interposed by the convulsed state of the province and other local circumstances were doubtless great; but with the means at hand, as evinced in the efficient services of the Municipal Council, any efforts directed to this end could not but be successful. With these few prefatory remarks, the Chairman would leave the meeting to discuss the business before it.

Mr. KESWICK remarked, in proposing that the Report of the Council be accepted, that it was unnecessary to add to the well deserved praise bestowed upon it by the Chairman. Succeeding Councils would deserve well of the community if they would continue to bestow the same attention on public affairs.

Mr. HANBURY seconded the motion for accepting the Report, which was passed nem con.

Sir HARRY PARKES having hereupon requested Mr. Hanbury to bring forward his proposed resolutions,

Mr. HANBURY remarked that, feeling as he did very strongly the justness of the praise bestowed by the Chairman and Mr. Keswick on the labours of the Council, he had some diffidence in proposing resolutions which were, in some degree, opposed to the tenor of the Report. In consequence of the very excellent scheme for a Chinese Court announced by Sir H. Parkes, he should abandon his fifth resolution, which proposed the admission of Chinese as members of the Council, and he therefore brought forward the resolution which stood third on his list, in connection with which it was evident that if we refused to pay any longer the 8 per cent Tax on Rentals to the Taotai, the settlement would be better able to pay the assessments now proposed by the Municipal Council. The origin of this tax lay in the well known letter from Sir F. Bruce to Mr. Consul Medhurst, which, however, though its effect on the Land Renters was so marked, really contained nothing that was not well known before. He thought that the imposition of this tax ought not to have taken place until agreed to by a special meeting of Land Renters; and it would have met with decided opposition at the Meeting of November 30th last, but for the statement that it was certainly about to be collected in the French Settlement also. He had himself seen Mr. Schmidt, the President of the French Council, who had stated that, although this latter body felt obliged to collect the tax on account of its being levied in the other settlements, yet that they would otherwise have resisted it. Now, however, it turns out that the French have not collected ny portion of it, and that they have successfully resisted the Taotai, whose officials have been imprisoned on being sent into the settlement to effect a collection,—the other settlements being thus placed at a great disadvantage. His resolution was, however, based on stronger grounds than that of the violation of the agreement by the French. The 8th clause limited the time during which the levy was to continue, until pence was restored; and he contended that, as the agreement had been made with the Taotai, in the whole of whose jurisdiction peace is now restored, the levy should now cease. The Taotai, moreover, had disregarded the agreement to impose no additional taxes in the settlement. Illegal taxes, as shewn by the Municipal Report, had been levied, and though this had perhaps not been done by authority of the Taotai, his satellites were nevertheless convicted. The Governor of Che-kiang had, moreover, compelled the payment of large contributions by natives of that province residing in this place. He was further at a loss to explain why the Municipal Council had halted after collecting 90,000 taels, and acted instructions in their report as to the disposal of the 24,000 taels they had detained. What making his resolution condemnatory, he thought all would agree that it would have been better had the Council asked for instructions from the Land Renters before agreeing to the levy at the outset.

Mr. Dent thought that Mr. Hanbury must have forgotten the remarks of Mr. Webb at the last meeting, and the unanimous assent then given to his remark that our action in this matter should be regardless of the course taken by the French. The latter have now topped payment of the tax, on the grounds that certain squeezes have been decreed in their settlement. With respect to the general question, Sir Frederick Bruce's letter affirmed the undoubted right of the Taotai to levy what taxes he pleased in the settlement. On what grounds then did Mr. Hanbury propose to interdict the levy? The Taotai himself would only be to glad to cancel the agreement, which restricted the levy of squeezes, but which was entered into by the speaker on his own responsibility, at a moment when the Taotai's demand was for a tax of three months's rentals. What did Mr. Hanbury propose? He admitted that the Taotai was entitled to tax as he pleased—how did he propose to prevent the exercise of this right? Sir Harry Parkes had already told the Land Renters that neither himself nor other Consuls were prepared to arrest the agents of the Taotai if sent into the settlement. In this case no half measures were possible; either the Taotai must collect taxes as he pleased in the settlement, or the community, as under the agreement, be allowed to retain the power of raising so.

Sir H. Parkes would make one inquiry here we or are we not at a disadvantage as compared with the French? Was any authentic information procurable as regarded their recent to levy the tax? Should this be the case, a proper quarter existed in which to proceed. A matter of this kind existed neither with the French Land-renters or Municipal Council, but with the French authorities; and he should be glad to know whether the alleged interference by French objects with the Taotai's officers, whilst collecting rightful taxes, rested merely on supposition or rumour. It was sufficient, however, to have it brought to his notice on the present occasion to induce him to take the proper steps for ascertaining the facts. Mr. Dent could give no certain information, but had no doubt that the Chinese had been arrested in the act of squeezing.

Mr. Lyall apprehended that by virtue of the agreement under discussion, the Taotai had resigned the right to levy fresh taxes; and so long as the agreement exists, the Consuls or Municipal Council have power to deal with irregular impositions or "squeezes." The question really was, would the Chinese in this settlement be better off whilst paying the established 8 per cent tax, or if left to the tender mercies of their own rulers? So long as we had the power given in the agreement, we can avert, though perhaps not entirely, the levy of squeezes; and he did not think the community ought to be guided by the actions of the French Municipal Council.

Mr. Reid quite agreed with Mr. Lyall as to the advisability of retaining the powers now existing, but thought that a check ought to be imposed by detaining payments of the Taotai countenance illegal imposts.

Sir H. Parkes pointed out that the burden of proof rests with those who bring forward accusations of "squeezing," and that it was highly necessary to ascertain whether these were imposed under the Taotai's warrant.

Mr. Anthons was of opinion that it would be wrong to base a refusal to levy the tax, on the action of the French. The only grounds that would suffice is a violation of the agreement by the Taotai. Strong use should be made of any information on this point.

Mr. Dent alleged that it is utterly impossible to stop "squeezing" in one form or another, until some plan like the present one of bringing the native jurisdiction into the settlement is set on foot. Any man whom it was desired to "squeeze" can now be arrested by the Taotai, on his sending his warrant to the Consul for signature, and false charges will be preferred against him for this purpose. Mr. Hanbury agreed that in view of the limited area of foreign jurisdiction, it was utterly impossible to prevent the Chinese from "squeezing."

Sir H. Parkes expressed his concurrence in the views of Mr. Autrobus, and dwelt on the importance of producing authentic particulars in any case of illegal taxing, without which to enter on an argument with the Chinese authorities would be useless. In connection he would allude to the case which had been brought forward, and in which the Municipal Council had fallen into precisely the error which they had stated their anxiety to repress. In inflicting a fine on the individual arrested, they had exceeded their powers, which gave them no judicial authority. It was illegal for the Council to impose a fine, and he must request them for future to abstain from the practice.

Mr. Dent was quite aware of the illegality of the proceeding but he assumed the responsibility on the grounds that, had the individual arrested, who was under the protection of some petty mandarin, been sent to the Consulate, he would have escaped all punishment.

Mr. Hanbury inquired of the Chairman of the Municipal Council for what reason the list of articles to be taxed, as agreed in the convention of June 12th, had not been published.

Mr. Dent could assign no other reason than the voluminous nature of the document which had been communicated to the Council by H. M.'s Consul.

Mr. Hanbury hereupon proposed, and Mr. Cowie seconded, the Resolution as follows:

That in the fact of H. E. the Taotai not having enforced the collection of the 8 per cent tax on the French Concession, and the necessity for it having passed away with returning tranquility of surrounding districts, the new Council be desired to suspend the collection of any tax on account of the Chinese Authorities, and to place this settlement and Hong-que on a par in this respect with the French Concession; that whatever sum is now in hand on this account be placed in the common funds.

Negatived unanimously.

Mr. Hanbury next introduced his following Resolution on the subject of Municipal taxation, remarking that the proposed prodigious increase in expenditure as well as revenue appeared to be unwarranted, and that the additional imposts would fall exclusively as a burden on the Chinese. The proposed augmentation, which the resources of the settlement must indeed be prodigious to meet, was found to be chiefly for the purpose of enlarging the police force to more than double its present numbers. This seemed to him quite unnecessary. He thought that an increase of efficiency rather than numbers was called for, as the events of the last few months have shewn the inadequacy of the police to cope with the cunning and audacity of the native criminals. A detective element was needed rather than an increase in physical force. In the French settlement, as he learned, the opposite course of reducing the taxation was being followed, whilst in our own, not only was this enormous increase contemplated, but a deficit of Tls. 80,000 still remained to be met by loan. He did not believe that such vast sums as proposed could be realized; whilst the augmentation of the taxes would accelerate the departure of Chinese inhabitants from the settlement. Even in the city itself they were more lightly taxed than would be the case under this scheme.

Mr. Loureiro begged to differ from Mr. Hanbury as regarded any tendency of the Chinese to leave the settlement, owing to taxation. He was personally aware that Chinese had moved from the French Settlement into our own. It is not the 5 per cent which has caused the seeming efflux of Chinese tenants, but the fact that speculators have built more houses than were needed, and thus led to a fall of rents and frequent removals.

Mr. Dent explained, with reference to the budget, that the figures it contained, though certainly on a somewhat gigantic scale, represented what the settlement would wish to see done in order to ensure an almost total abolition of vice. It was, no doubt, possible to fix a lower limit for the police force as regards numbers; but on the subject of efficiency he challenged comparison with the constabulary of any other city in the East. He maintained that, as a body, no finer set of men existed. As regarded the French taxation, he found that their principal revenue was derived from brothels and gambling shops. The present budget proposed an identical source of revenue. Details exhibited the vast number of places of this description, and the ease with which revenue could be derived. He considered that to tax vice and maintain virtue was the proper order of the day. It was true, as observed, that these taxes might be illegal and not be carried out; but in this case the whole budget fell to the ground. If so, the only resource would be to double the existing taxes on foreigners. Expenditure was constantly increasing. New roads form a source of constant expense, whilst the income from such sources as wharfage dues is constantly diminishing. The enlargement of the bounds of the settlement and Hongque found an increasing demand on the police for it, which with its present numbers was able only to supply 19 men on duty, during the day, and 32 at night, with beats of one mile and half a mile in length.

Mr. Hogg, admitting that an increase might be desirable, objected to doubling the amount expended in one year. He should move as an amendment to Mr. Hanbury's resolution, the following:

That the Police force be only increased to the extent of 25 Europeans and sixty Portuguese or natives, not Chinese at the discretion of the Council, as may be required; and that the Council reduce their estimated taxation to meet only the above requirement.

Seconded by Mr. Dixwell.

Mr. Anthons supported the original resolution against the amendment. Since an increase in the Police force was admittedly required, he thought it unwise to limit the numbers to 25. Such limitation he thought should be left to the Council, after an expression of the sense of the meeting. He enquired of the Chairman of the Municipal Council whether an increase of 25 men would add to the efficiency of the Police.

Mr. Dent replied that whilst 25 men would make some little difference, 40 to 50 would make a great difference, and the proposed increase to 216 would make all the difference.

Sir Harry Parkes observed that whilst there could be little doubt that the proposed numbers are not too few, the question is one of ways and means. If the increase is beyond our resources, the numbers must be either reduced or some new expedient adopted. Former experience had made him acquainted with the usefulness of Chinese assistants to a constabulary of limited numbers, and, in some cases, Chinese are of service where a foreigner can render no assistance. In giving evidence as to the situation and names of native localities, and in a detective capacity, a Chinese can be useful where a European constabulary, however admirable otherwise, is helpless. Again, in view of the hot season, which was so severe a strain on the Police force, Chinese might be very extensively utilized. The principal objection to their employment is the undoubted fact that they cannot wholly be trusted. It is urged that they will indulge in "squeezes"—an idea which seems never to allow itself to be out of sight; but he thought that, granted this as likely, if the Council will persist in submitting to extortion after the warnings and other measures taken to protect them, they can only blame their own folly. He found that whilst a European constabulary cost, including officers, an average of Tls. 916 per man, the cost of a Chinese constable was stated as only 96. Even in cases of squeezing, was it probable that the amount extorted would equal the difference in taxation rendered necessary by the more expensive force. Whilst simply placing these suggestions before the Meeting, he considered that Chinese should not be excluded from the Police.

Mr. Dixwell perfectly agreed with the Council that it was desirable they should have all the men they ask for, but the difficulty lay in the means of payment.

Mr. Lyall, was of opinion that the Chinese who render the increase necessary, should bear the burden of its cost. Taxation moreover does not wholly fall upon the Chinese. If additional imposts are levied, gentlemen who have previously received their 40 or 50 per cent profit on rentals, must be content with lower rates.

Mr. Hogg, referring to the arguments advanced in favor of a Chinese element in the Police force, was ready to alter his proposed amendment; but he felt convinced that taxation, on reaching a certain point, is felt to press very hardly on the Chinese. The prosperity of Shanghai, in which all are variously interested, depends really on the influx of native residents, who should be protected, to a great extent, against so enormous an expenditure. He differed from the statement in the Report as to the undiminished prosperity of the settlement.

Sir Harry Parkes pointed out that the imposition of some of the proposed taxes, even though agreed to by the present meeting, would depend on proceedings to be taken elsewhere. The Land Regulations, whilst giving certain powers to the Municipal Council, do not invest them with authority to tax brothels and gambling houses, and it was advisable, therefore, not to look upon the proposal to raise these taxes as definitive. Many would concur in the great principles which had been appealed to in this matter; and while he was far from saying that the proposition could not be carried wholly or partially into effect; he wished the meeting to bear in mind that it was not in their power to decide whether such a course should be followed or not. It would certainly be impossible without the sanction of the Chinese authorities; and the two first items named in the budget affected enterprises which are contrary to the law of the land. Every one had seen the ill-judged, but persistent opposition of the Chinese to certain ideas, which like some other nations, also, they prefer ignoring to regulating. Until, however, their consent is signified, the taxes cannot be counted upon.

Mr. Dent explained that it was only within the last few days that he had learnt that objections might be brought to the levy of these taxes, and only yesterday that the Council had received from H.M.'s Consul a despatch in which the Taotai called upon him to assist in putting down brothels and gambling houses. He was of opinion that as these taxes are levied in the French Settlement, they could with equal facility be included in the budget. Before proceeding to ulterior measures, he thought the cooperation of the leading Consuls ought to be requested. Every-body must be quite aware that the Land Renters could not empower the Municipal Council to take any steps. The imposition of these taxes had however been assented to at the last meeting of Land Renters; and he would now suggest a further meeting, after the election of the new Council.

Mr. Hogg's amendment, altered to read "natives of India or China at the discretion of the Council" was hereupon put to the meeting, but not carried. Mr. Hanbury hereupon proposed, and Mr. Keswick seconded, his original resolution:

That this Meeting views with some alarm the heavy estimates of increased expenditure for the ensuing year, and is of opinion that it is undesirable to increase the Police to the extent proposed, and that the budget should be framed with a view to keeping taxation within more moderate limits than those stated.

Carried.

Mr. Dent had hereupon to point out that the Council was left entirely in the dark. They had no rule for their guidance given, and he requested some explicit statement of views. It would be impossible for a new Council, entirely ignorant of the affairs of the settlement, to frame a budget off-hand to replace that which is now disapproved of.

Mr. Anthons considered it best to authorize the Municipal Council to expend some distinct sum, and he therefore moved the following resolution:

That the Council be empowered to increase the Police Force to an extent that will be covered by an additional expenditure equal to Tls. 40,000 in the year.

Seconded by Mr. Lyall,

Carried unanimously.

Mr. Hanbury proceeded to propose his next Resolution.

That in view of the rapid efflux of Chinese into the surrounding country, it is inadvisable to impose heavier taxes on the native population than those hitherto borne; and that it is to interest of Land Renters to encourage the Chinese to remain within our limits.

Seconded by Mr. Pearson.

Negatived.

Mr. Hanbury then brought forward and Mr. Loureiro seconded, the following resolution:

4th. That this meeting is of opinion that a proposed exemption of houses, paying a rent of 4 dollars per month and under, would be an invidious distinction, tending unduly to benefit those owning that description of property; and that if it be desirable to exempt the occupants of such houses from taxes on account of their poverty, that the same be collected from the owner of the houses, and not from the renter.

The proposed exemption by the Municipal Council of houses bearing rentals of $4, he thought rather strange, as this would place the owners of the houses in an unfair position. He thought the proposition unjust, moreover, as this class of houses is one of the most profitable.

Mr. Dent explained that the Council had been actuated by two motives. In the first place, the tax, which amounts only to some Tls. 1,450 per annum, is one involving great labour in the collection; and secondly, he thought that true principles demanded the exemption of the poor from burdens, and the taxation of the rich.

The resolution was hereupon proposed, and carried.

Sir Harry Parkes proceeded to read to the meeting a letter from the Secretary of the Municipal Council, stating that certain gentlemen had offered themselves for re-election and for election. These were Messrs. Dent and Cook, and Messrs. Autrobus, Forbes, Heinsen, Talbot, and Kahn.

On a ballot being taken, the result was announced as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| For H. W. Dent, Esq. | ..... | 59 votes. |
| " Jas. Cook, Esq. | ..... | 56 " |
| " R. C. Autrobus, Esq. | .. | 54 " |
| " F. B. Forbes, Esq. | .... | 54 " |
| " R. Heinsen, Esq. | .... | 50 " |
| " G. W. Talbot, Esq. | .... | 49 " |
| " J. Kahn, Esq. | ..... | 47 " |

And these gentlemen were declared duly elected.

Mr. R. Reid proposed, and Mr. Thorse seconded, a vote of thanks to the retiring council, which was carried unanimously.

Mr. Dent, in offering acknowledgments on behalf of the Council, bore a warm tribute to the untiring industry and extraordinary zeal of the Secretary to the Council, Mr. Gould, to whom must be attributed whatever good may have been effected. Whilst the other functionaries under the Council had uniformly deserved well of the community, Mr. Gould's services had been pre-eminently marked and constant.

It was now proposed that the meeting should be adjourned, as the lateness of the hour precluded a complete termination of the subjects to be discussed; but Mr. Dent was desirous that some expression of opinion should be made with respect to the Municipal Loans, which are now contracted under the individual guarantee of each member of the Council.

Mr. Anthons considered that this course was peculiarly objectionable, and that it was unfair to require members of the Council to place themselves in such a position, even in theory. He thought that all who vote for a loan should be equally bound for its security.

Mr. Lyall, as a banker, stated that the Municipal Council has no legal existence, and that individual security was therefore looked for; but he thought that Land Renters would never shrink from the responsibility in the very improbable event of a difficulty arising in the means of payment.

It was hereupon proposed by Mr. Keswick, and seconded by Mr. Dent,

That this Meeting authorizes the renewal of the loan for Tls. 80,000 for 12 months; and suggests for the consideration of the Council, that a circular be signed by the Land Renters, accepting the responsibility of the loan.

Carried unanimously.

Sir Harry Parkes took the opportunity of bringing before the notice of the Land Renters, a fact not hitherto officially communicated to them, viz: that with reference to the bank formed outside the Bund, in front of the British Consulate grounds, H. M.'s Government had consented that this piece of land should be reclaimed and converted into a public promenade, on the condition that it should remain at the option of the Government to resume possession on paying to the community the amount expended on the site. This reservation he thought would be considered prudent, as it guards against the possibility of the land lapsing from the hands of the trustees, except to revert to those of Government.

It being too late for further discussion, it was moved by Mr. Dent, and seconded by Mr. Underwood,

That this meeting do now adjourn till further notice.

This motion having been carried, the Meeting dissolved, with a vote of thanks to the Chairman.

HARRY S. PARKES,
Chairman.

Wm. S. Fred. Mayers,
Officiating Secretary.

HANKOW RACES.

(From a Correspondent.)

Dear Sir,—The weather was unpropitious for our first attempt in the racing line, and it was only owing to the strenuous exertions of the Course Committee, that they came off at all; originally having been arranged for the 23rd and 24th of March, they were postponed to the 8th and 9th of April, then to the 11th and 12th, and finally, owing to the bad state of the course, had to be entirely changed, and as only ¾ of a mile of fair running could be obtained, we had to make only one day of it, cutting out all the horse races and the races for ponies, which were over ½ of a mile.

The whole of the races were between the rival stables of Kiukiang and Hankow. The former represented by "Pepper" and "Wedding Cake," the latter by "Beecy Sharp" and "Latest Edition;" Hankow proving victorious by winning four races out of five. "Hard Cash" and "Mud" could not manage to come to the front at all; "Pumpkin," like his owner, proved rather too fat, and "Boiled Barley" and "Blackie" were successful in being a good last in every thing they ran for; this is not to be wondered at, as it is believed they were trained upon boiled barley, besides having been fed, all the summer, on the locusts which destroyed the ten crop, last year.

The Races were as follows:—

Chad-sze Cup.—Value Tls. 150. ¼ mile.
1. Pepper.
2. Hard Cash.
3. Beecy Sharp.
4. Outcast.
0. Boiled Barley.

A good race; Beecy Sharp kept the lead at first, but was cleverly beaten, in the finish, by Pepper.

Hankow Stakes.—Entrance, Tls. 6, with Tls. 20 from the fund.
1. Latest Edition.
2. Pumpkin.
3. Faugh o Ballagh.
4. Comet.
0. Blackie.

Both heats won cleverly by Beecy Sharp.

Yangtze Cup.—Value Tls. 50. ¾ mile.
1. Latest Edition.
2. Pepper.
3. Magnet.

Challenge Cup.—Value $ 100. ¾ mile.
1. Latest Edition.
2. Pepper.
4. Hard Cash.
0. Outcast.

A good Race, Pepper coming up well at the end and looked like winning, had the race been a little longer; Latest Edition evidently feeling his previous work.

LA CONCESSION FRANÇAISE.

Monsieur le Rédacteur,

L'accueil bienveillant que vous accordez toujours aux questions d'intérêt local, m'enhardit à vous demander une obligeante hospitalité pour ces quelques lignes.

Il est question, dit-on, de procéder incessamment au renouvellement de la Commission Municipale Française, dont le mandat expire fin de ce mois, et déjà on dresse, comme il y a deux ans, la liste de M. M. les propriétaires d'Immeubles, qui doivent concourir seuls, à la nomination des 5 ou 6 membres de cette commission.

En 1862, lorsqu'on créa une commission Municipale, M. le Consul Intérimaire, ne consulta en effet que les propriétaires fonciers sur le choix d'une liste de membres à élire; c'était une mesure temporaire, dictatoriale, c'est vrai, mais que pouvaient justifier les circonstances d'alors. Aujourd hui il ne saurait en être de même, les choses et la situation sont changées.

J'ai certainement le plus profond respect pour les décisions de l'Autorité, cependant je ne puis m'empêcher de rappeler et de proclamer que le principe qui vivifie, anime et domine toutes nos lois et nos trois nombreuses constitutions, est que "celui qui vote et qui dépense l'impôt, doit être lui par celui qui le paie;" que si une exception, il y a 2 ans, a été apportée à ce principe, dans des circonstances exceptionnelles, cette exception, qui ne pouvait être, je le répete, que transitoire, momentanée et provisoire, n'a plus de raison d'etre.

Puis qu'il s'agit en ce moment d'une nouvelle élection, je pense qu'il est opportune de rentrer dans le droit commun et qu'il est juste et indispensable d'appeler à cette élection outre les propriétaires Fonciers, tous les Locataires Européens établis et payant l'impôt. De la sorte, les intérêts de tous seraient sauvegardés, et les décisions Municipales auraient force de loi; autrement le Locataire Européen, un consulté, peut vous dire à juste titre, je ne co-opère en aucune façon au mandat qui vous a été donné, vous n'êtes point mon mandataire, je refuse le paiement de vos taxes." Vous ne pourriez l'y contraindre? Alors que ferez vous? Ne perdez pas de vue que si les sociétés humaines subsistent à la condition pour chacun, de subvenir, dans la mesure nécessaire, aux besoins de la chose publique, cette condition est subordonnée au vote individuel de cette subvention par les intéresses eux mêmes ou leurs mandataires.

D'ailleurs, je fais appel aux membres sortants de la commission Municipale, et je leur demande si parmi eux il en est un qui puisse ne pas reconnaitre combien ses fonctions seraient rehaussées, si, après avoir été autrefois accordées par l'Autorité et par la classe privilégiée des propriétaires, faible fraction des contribuables, elles lui étaient à l'avenir confirmées par le mandat complet, régulier, si désirable pour lui, de tous ses concitoyens sans exception.

J'aimerai que le nombre trop limité des membres de la commission fut augmenté de deux ou trois unités, et que le système électoral amenant au conseil quelques hommes complètement nouveaux, disposés à examiner même très minutieusement les questions d'impôts, de taxes, de travaux publics &c. &c. Ou serait le mal?

Il en est des délibérations comme de toutes les conventions de la vie humaine; les moins discutées ne sont pas toujours les meilleures. Dans les grandes transformations, quand tout est à créer, qu'on est sans précédent, un conseil Municipal élu par tous les intéressés est plus propre, plus utile qu'une commission désignée par quelques uns seulement, minorité qui, ne pouvant avoir la prétention de représenter les intérêts de tous les contribuables, ne saurait transmettre que la faiblesse numerique.

Ainsi donc, pour me résumer, point de privilège, égalité parfaite de droits puisqu'il y a égalité dans les charges, liberté entière, point de régime exceptionnel; un corps constitué ne peut véritablement créer de belles choses, puiser de force et d'indépendence, qu'en restant dans la Justice et la Légalité.

Prochainement, j'aurai de nouveau l'honneur de vous adresser une nouvelle lettre sur ce sujet si varie et si intéressant.

HOMŒOPATHIC Practitioners, and the Medical Profession generally, recommend Cocoa as being the most healthful of all beverages. When the doctrine of Homœopathy was first introduced into this country, there were to be obtained no preparations of Cocoa either attractive to the taste or acceptable to the stomach; the nut was either supplied in its crude state, or so unskilfully manufactured as to obtain little notice.

J. Epps, of London, Homœopathic chemist, was induced in the year 1839, to turn his attention to this subject, and at length succeeded, with the assistance of elaborate machinery, in being the first to produce an article pure in its composition, and so refined by the perfect trituration it receives in the process it passes through, as to be acceptable to the delicate stomach, and a most desirable breakfast beverage. ## GABRIEL.

ON THE LOSS AND RESTORATION OF THE TEETH.

THE above is issued by Messrs. GABRIEL, the eminent London Dentists, and as it is written by men who have a high standing in their profession, the work is well worthy the perusal of all who value the preservation of their teeth, and wish to guard against the many and tormenting evils to which those useful members are subject. Many valuable hints are given throughout the book as to the various means of preserving the teeth and gums in a healthy condition, and of arresting, in many cases permanently, the progress of decay which may have already set in. The little work is evidently written by men of long experience in their profession, and as thorough masters of their subject may be thoroughly recommended.

Extract from the "Monas Herald," January 2nd, 1864.—As may be seen by our advertising columns, Messrs. Gabriel supply teeth on their patented system, irrespective of distance or climate. 30ap 399
